

Family Engagement Program

Train your family outreach team members to deliver this research-based program

The Family Engagement Program is a family-centered, trauma-informed intervention designed to engage the parents/guardians of your school or agency teens.

Through four parent group sessions, these important adults learn skills to support their child in

- mood management,
- drug-use control, and
- improving school performance.

As a research-based program, Family Engagement outlines the important combination of speaking up, listening, expressing feelings, building self-esteem, and offering needed support.

Plus...

This strength-based model can substantially boost the outcomes of your RY or CAST Program, by instilling support in the home environment for all the hard work the teens are doing in group.

Family Engagement Training for Facilitators

A lively, cohort-based, online training to learn how to implement this exciting and supportive program for the parents of teens.

Your Family Engagement Facilitators will learn how to:

- Recruit parents and guardians to the Family Engagement Program.
- Conduct meetings in person or virtually with these important adults.
- Utilize numerous program resources, including activity worksheets, an e-book, and meeting evaluation forms.
- Instill hope and confidence in the families of teens!
